PREFACE

Dear Students,

In this Summer School Book, there are activities at various levels and structures that will allow you to use the knowledge and skills you have gained during the teaching processes. With these activities, you will have the opportunity to both revise the subjects you have studied at school and monitor your academic progress.

In the book, you are supposed to practise subjects about meeting people and introducing yourselves, you will talk about yourselves, your preferences, interests, and your ideas on certain subjects. You will also talk about different countries, cultures, values and lifestyles. You will do exercises on people's appearances and personalities. Besides, you will talk about past time experiences and your regrets as well as your wishes and future plans. You will practise making requests, accepting and refusing suggestions, apologizing and giving reasons. You will share your ideas on various subjects such as friendship, human rights, environmental problems and their solutions. You will have the chance to write about different themes, you will do puzzles, play several games and read amazing texts, that is, you will really have fun while doing the activities in Summer School Book.

Shortly, as mentioned above, the activities in this Summer School Book prepared for this purpose were structured to include cognitive domain levels. Numerous activities, such as "Let's Read, Let's Listen, Let's Write, Let's Speak, Let's Produce, Let's Answer, and Let's Match" item types are included in the Summer School Book. There are also some other activities which allow you to have an enjoyable time like "Let's Have Fun, Let's Solve".

We aim to contribute to your academic development with this Summer School Book, which has been meticulously prepared by experts in the field. Hope to see the positive reflections of this study in your education life.

Getting to Know Each Other

What Is Colour Psychology?

We can simply describe colour psychology as the effect of different colours on human behaviour. Colours affect people differently, especially in different cultures. Some colours, such as blue and green, are universally related to nature. However, there are others that are more objective; for example, white in the UK signifies peacefulness and purity, and is often used at weddings, whereas other cultures see it as a colour of death. Colours can be powerful; they can have an effect not only on the visual aesthetics but also on evoking particular emotions and feelings. This is why it's important to choose a colour that reflects you. Here are the colours which mostly evoke these certain emotions:

1 Do you agree / disagree with this information? Here is a colour wheel. Write what emotions / feelings each colour evokes in your mind.

1 Discuss the following statements with your partner using the expressions below.

- a In my opinion, ...
- b I'm a bit doubtful about ...
- c I firmly believe that ...
- d I've always thought that ...
- e I'm of the opinion that ...
- f I think ...
- g From my point of view, ...
- h As far as I'm concerned, ...

- 1 Music is a perfect way of bringing many people together, regardless of their cultural or educational backgrounds.
- 2 Rather than just being a form of entertainment, music is a powerful tool that can be used to shape society.
- 3 Modern music, especially the lyrics of the songs, may influence children and teenagers in a bad way.

E.g. 1

A: In my opinion, the power of music brings many people together no matter where they come from.

B: I think music has an impact on people, but not as much as you think.

E.g. 2

A: I'm a bit doubtful about the positive effects of music on human psychology.

B: I don't agree with you. From my point of view _____.

Let's Answer

1 Laura and Diana are talking about celebrities in an e-magazine on the tablet. Use the expressions given below to complete the sentences.

I totally agree with you.
What does she look like?

I don't agree with you.
What is she like?

Laura: Hey Diana, look at Katie Perry's picture. I like her voice very much. I'm one of her fans.

Diana: She's in a black dress and looks attractive. I think she's with her fans and taking a selfie.

Laura: _____ (1) Black dress suits her. Do you know anything about her personality?
_____ (2)

Diana: She's bubbly, energetic, and sensitive.

Laura: Look at Beyonce's picture. She looks nice.

Diana: She wears attractive earrings. She's got brown eyes and long wavy brown hair. She looks charming.
She looks younger than her age.

Diana: _____ (3) I think vice versa. Although she's forty, she looks older than her age.

Laura: What about Jennifer Lawrence's style?

Diana: Who is she? I've never heard of her. _____ (4)

Laura: She's tall. She's got long blonde hair and blue eyes. She's an American actress. Let me show you her picture on the tablet.

Diana: Ok. Let's see her picture. Wow! She's really beautiful.

Let's Speak

2 Ask your friend's likes, dislikes, interests, and preferences and write sentences about him/her.

- a S/he is crazy about _____.
- b S/he would rather _____.
- c S/he never prefers _____.
- d S/he really hates _____.
- e S/he is into _____.

Let's Write

1 Write like (L) or dislike (D) in the boxes.

like	<input type="checkbox"/>	love	<input type="checkbox"/> can't stand	<input type="checkbox"/>	don't like	<input type="checkbox"/> hate	<input type="checkbox"/>	be keen on	<input type="checkbox"/> be crazy/mad about	<input type="checkbox"/>	dislike	<input type="checkbox"/> be not keen on	<input type="checkbox"/>	enjoy	<input type="checkbox"/>
be into	<input type="checkbox"/>	can't bear	<input type="checkbox"/>

2 Write your own likes and dislikes by using these words as in the example.

LIKES	DISLIKES
Example: I like chatting with my friends on my balcony for hours.	Example: I dislike eating fast food too much.

2 Complete the dialogues with the correct forms of the verbs in parentheses.

1. Amy: Would you rather _____ a course in literature or science? (take)

Let's Speak

While communicating, we sometimes need to make things clear. We also want to make sure we understand everything we hear. So, we use some clarification expressions.

ASKING FOR CLARIFICATIONS

I beg your pardon?
 Sorry, I didn't catch that.
 Can you explain more?
 Would you mind repeating that?

GIVING CLARIFICATIONS

What I'm trying to say is...
 What I mean is...
 All I'm saying is...
 What I'm getting at is...

e.g. Sandra: Betty, can you explain more?
Betty: All I'm saying is, tomorrow is Saturday!
Sandra: I beg your pardon?
Betty: What I mean is, let's do something amusing!
Sandra: OK. Then, let's go to a movie. There are lots of new films I want to see.

3 Choose one of the situations below and prepare a dialogue with your partner. Then act it out in class.

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| a. You are on the phone making a weekend plan with your friend. | c. You are at a restaurant ordering a meal to the waiter/waitress. |
| b. You are on a tour and talking with your tour guide.          | d. You are at a shopping mall with your aunt.                      |

Let's Listen

1 Listen to the dialogue of two friends about their preferences in using technological tools and fill in the blanks with the correct words.

Jim: I am planning to buy a new tablet so that I can save my documents easily.

Katie: I 1 _____ using a tablet for my documents. 2 _____ use a PC than a tablet. I believe it is more practical.

Jim: Oh, this is not my cup of tea. 3 _____ use a tablet for sure because I just want to carry my documents easily everywhere I go. You know I stay in dormitory and I have to carry my stuff at the weekends. Also in my room, there is no table. In my opinion, using a PC is not very comfortable on a bed.

Katie: Oh, I see. So, you can buy a smart phone instead. It will be very handy then.

Jim: I have a smart phone, but it is not very useful for documents. I generally do not prefer mobile phones 4 _____ as the screen is too small to view them.

Katie: Yes, I think buying a tablet is the best option then.

Jim: Yes, it is. So, I am planning to go shopping tomorrow. 5 _____ coming with me or staying at home?

Katie: I'd rather 6 _____. I have a lot of homework. I believe it would be better.

Jim: OK then. See you later!

Let's Read

2 Answer the following questions.

1. Do you like reading stories?
2. What kind of stories do you like reading?
3. Do you prefer printed books or e-books?
4. Have you ever read a digital story?
5. Do you know how to create a digital story?

3 Read what Mike has written about the digital story creating process for his Information Technology class and put the steps in the correct order.

- a. Record the script. ____      b. Come up with an idea. ____      c. Put it all together. ____
d. Write the script. ____      e. Share. ____      f. Gather / create images, audios, or videos. ____

Creating a digital story is not a difficult process as it is thought. If you have a story to tell, you can do it in a few easy steps.

1 If you want to write a story, you should have something to say first. It can be anything you want. You can tell the story of your family, best friend, favourite sportsperson, or even the story of your pet. The characters might be fictional or real.

2 Write a draft of your story and ask some people to read it and get feedback.

3 When your script is ready, your next step will be to record your story. You need a quiet place for this. It is better to have a good microphone, too.

4 Selecting and editing the images is the third step. You can take your images from various sources. You can take photos with a digital camera or find them on the Internet. Make a folder and put your images into it. It is a good idea to put your pictures in order according to your story.

5 Use a video editing program to combine the sound and the images. Bring your audio clips in order. It is done by placing the cursor on the timeline where you want the audio to be placed. Then, bring the images in the same way; place them on the timeline on the video track.

6 Insert background music, titles, and effects. If you want to publish this digital story on the Internet, you should be careful about commercial things because of the copyrights.

Your digital story is ready to be shared in 6 easy steps.

Let's Speak

4 Imagine that you are preparing a funny digital story. Talk about its process. Share your thoughts, ideas and / or experiences about creating a digital story with your friends.

5 Work in pairs to talk about your favourite story from your childhood. Ask and answer;

- Which one was your favourite?
- What was it about?
- Why was it your favourite?
- Which character in the story had an impact on you?
- What conclusions did you draw from the story?

Cinderella was my favourite childhood story. It was about a nice girl and her relationship with her bad stepmother and stepsisters. Cinderella was so patient and kind that a miracle happened. I've always believed in being good and patient. That's why it is my favourite.

30-Second Talks

- Work in groups of four.
- First, write numbers from 1-6 on some pieces of paper, fold and put them in a box.
- Draw a number from the box and move around the board.
- When you land on a sentence square, you must talk for 30 seconds about that question, giving your opinion.
- If you can't talk for 30 seconds, you must move back one square.
- After you've finished speaking, it's the next player's turn.
- The game ends when you reach the FINISH square.

Questionnaire About Your Interests

Instructions to Complete

Questionnaire About Your Interests

Overall Scores

P Score  Practical

You enjoy working with tools, machines, or animals rather than people. You are likely to solve manual, mechanical, or electronic problems logically. You may be good at using your hands to design, make or mend things. You prefer using your physical skills, possibly out of doors, and may be well coordinated.

E Score  Enterprising

Working on projects, taking chances, organizing, and influencing others are all things you appreciate. You might be ambitious, extroverted, self-sufficient, active, self-assured, and passionate. You could wish to work on your leadership, management, motivation, or persuasion abilities. You may be drawn to careers that provide you with prestige, power, money, or variety.

S Score  Social

You like collaborating with others. You are sociable, compassionate, helpful, and sensitive to the needs of others. You could love interacting with others, discussing difficulties, or leading a group. Teaching, nursing, or counselling are examples of jobs that include training, informing, comprehending, or assisting others.

C Score  Creative

You enjoy developing your skills in art, music, drama, or writing. You could want to work with your mind, body, or emotions while taking in the beauty, variety, unstructured activities, and unique sights, sounds, textures, or people. You are gifted, sensitive, and expressive, and you wish to express yourself creatively in some manner.

I Score  Investigative

You enjoy intellectual challenges, focusing on ideas, and using your reasoning and critical thinking skills. You tend to be curious, independent, logical, and sometimes introverted, or unusual. You may be more interested in solving problems than working with people or machines. You could have a passion for math, science, or medicine.

O Score  Organisational

You appreciate dealing with people, data, and objects in which you can create clear processes for your own and others' work. You could be particularly skilled with details. You are a reliable person in your work because you work efficiently and precisely. You could be interested in a structured work setting such as administration.

Different Manners Across The World

Travelling across the world and discovering new cultures or traditions are exciting experiences that everyone seeks to have. However, these experiences may leave some bad memories behind unless you know how to behave in the country that you are visiting. Therefore, learning about the etiquette of the country that you are going to visit beforehand can be a lifesaver during your visit. Let's learn some specific etiquette that exists around the world.

Respect Sacred Places in Nepal

If you decide to visit Nepal, you need to learn that you should take your shoes off before entering a Hindu or Buddhist temple. Also, taking photos is prohibited in these places unless special permission is taken. You should avoid touching offerings or shrines, as well.

Don't Eat Food with Your Left Hand in India

India is one of the countries in Asia that attract visitors from all around the world most. One of the reasons behind that is its tasty spicy dishes. However, there is one thing that visitors should pay attention to while tasting these dishes and it is avoiding using the left hand while eating. It's because the left hand is considered unclean and dirty as it is commonly used for personal hygiene.

Burp During Dinner In China

How would you feel if one of your friends burped at one of your friends' gatherings? Most probably, you would be disgusted by this behavior. However, in China, burping during dinner is a sign that you are eating a satisfying meal. Talking when your mouth is full is also acceptable. Therefore, if you happen to visit China and eat dinner, don't forget to burp, even if once, in order to fit in the society that you are visiting.

Don't give any tips in Japan

In some countries in the world, people leave some money into tip boxes as a sign of thanking the waiter or waitress that served them. However, in Japan, it's considered rude and unacceptable, so while in Japan, refrain from giving any tips to the waiter or waitress.

No eye contact in Mexico

Most books on body language state that looking directly in the eyes of an interlocutor is necessary in a conversation, but not in all the countries in the world. During your visit to Mexico, try to avoid looking someone in the eyes and keep a fair distance between you and the person you are talking to. Otherwise, local people could blame you for being rude.

Do you like to read inspirational stories? Here is a text about Melisa Tokmak, whose success story may inspire many young people. Read the text and get information.

A success story of Melisa from Salihli, Manisa BİLSEM to Silicon Valley

01 "Melisa was not even a year old. She had toy blocks with her. I saw that she had made a cube from them. I knocked it down, and she did the same thing once again. That's when I realized that there was something bright with this girl. When she was 3 years old, seeing that we were reading a newspaper, she used to get angry, asking us why she couldn't read it. Then, somehow, she learned to read by herself. She spoke early and walked early." says Melisa's mother, Ayşegül Tokmak. Now she is among the executives of a company in Silicon Valley.

02 "I want all young Turkish people to trust themselves," says Melisa Tokmak, a young and successful computer engineer who started doing projects when she managed to get into BİLSEM in Manisa, Salihli. While she was still in secondary school, she became the first in TUBİTAK Türkiye with her project. She also topped in TUBİTAK Türkiye with her physics project in high school. Then, she was sent to Helsinki to compete and received an award there as well. Her teachers and family were her biggest supporters. She understood the importance of struggling to survive on her own in a boarding school away from her family. It was difficult, but Melisa managed to do it.

03 She applied to summer school in the USA to improve her English. Stanford University Summer School accepted Melisa on a scholarship. She built airplanes in her robotics camp. When Melisa saw Stanford, at that moment, she decided that no matter what happened in life, she would come there for college.

04 She improved her English. She applied to international UWC schools, and when she got accepted, she studied for the last two years of high school in India. Melisa learned to stand up for herself in life in India. She devoted herself to mathematics, physics, and theatre. The school admissions day had arrived. Melissa was very excited. And, at 3:00 a.m., she learned that she had been accepted to Stanford. Maybe, it was the most exciting moment of her life for Melisa. She spent the best four years of her life at Stanford. She didn't even have a computer until secondary school. But now, she was a student of computer engineering at Stanford. She had won it by hard work. Her parents also went to see their daughter's graduation joy. Melisa says this is the proudest moment.

05 After school, she started working at a social media business as a product manager. She worked hard there, too, and she rose rapidly. She met the CEO of the company she is working at now. She also liked Melisa's story very much and offered Melisa a job as her right hand (Chief of Staff). Melisa and her friends have tripled the size of the company, which is now one of the most important Machine Learning startups in Silicon Valley. Melisa is still employed there, managing a department. "I have more dreams," says Melisa, whose next step is to establish her own firm. If it were not for Melisa's belief in work and if her parents and teachers hadn't supported her, maybe she wouldn't be here. Melisa is a good example of faith, perseverance, and success.

DESCRIBING A PICTURE

1 Work in pairs. Take a photo, but don't show your photo to your friend. Ask your friend questions using the information in the boxes below to help your partner describe his/her photo. Try to visualise it. Then, take turns.

You can use time phrases in describing a picture:

First / Second / After / Then / Finally
While / When / As soon as / After / Before
During / Later / At that moment
In the beginning / In the end
Suddenly

You can use different words to describe a picture more interesting:

Adjectives: young, old, big, early, fantastic, lovely, usual, boring, busy, fast, funny, etc.

Adverbs: quickly, slowly, happily, fast, hard, well, mostly, luckily, badly, etc.

Verbs: come, go, wait, talk, think, decide, look, smile, surprise, etc.

When you don't know what to say, use these hesitation strategies: Well..., Umm..., Err..., Let's see, I mean, I guess, You know, So, Just a moment, I'm not really sure, , Let me think, You see what I mean, Is that understandable ?, Was I clear to you?, Where was I?, I have to think about this?, What else ?, Basically..., I don't know., OK?

ACTIONS	PEOPLE
What are the people doing?	Number: How many people/animals are there?
What else is happening?	Characters: Who is he/she? Who are they? What is it? What are they?
What was the cause?	Age: How old is he/she/it? How old are they?
What is the effect?	Company: Who is with him/her/them?
Why was this picture taken?	Appearance: What does he/she look like? What do they look like?
	Feelings: What is he/she feeling? What are they feeling?

SENSES	PLACE	TIME
What can the people / animals hear, smell, taste, or feel?	What is this? Is it outside or inside? What are they? Are they outside or inside? What can you see? Are there buildings, nature, a room, objects, or animals? Describe the details. What colours are there? Use some adjectives to describe the place.	Is it present past or future? What season is it? What part of the day is it? What's the time?

WEATHER	MY FEELINGS
What's the weather like? What season is it? What's the temperature? Is it hot or cold?	What do you think of this situation? How do you feel about it/them? Comment on it/them. Have you ever been in a similar situation? What was it like? How did you feel about the picture?

1 Read the magazine article where Paulo Wilcox talks about things she regrets. In which paragraph does she talk about ...?

- A  a time when she misjudged other people
- B  a time when she didn't want to seem different from other people
- C  her insecurity about her appearance
- D  how she regrets not taking more risks
- E  something she could have been better at

Regrets, I've had a few...

Actress Paula Wilcox, now in her seventies, was best known for her role in the TV series Man About the House, which she starred in when she was only 19. Here she talks about things she wishes she had known then.

- 1 Now, when I look in the mirror and think, 'Oh dear, I'm getting older,' it reminds me that I used to do the same thing when I was 19 and 20. I used to look at myself and think I looked awful. I wish I'd known what I was going to look like fifty years later because then I might have realised how gorgeous I was then. I looked great, but I didn't appreciate it. What a waste!
- 2 I now understand that it's OK to be successful. When I was 19, I was starring on TV and making loads of money, but most of my friends were university students. I felt embarrassed and used to walk around with my hands in front of my face so as not to be recognised. I wish I'd known that it's possible to enjoy the good things about fame and that you can keep your friendships despite it.
- 3 Life has taught me that sometimes when people behave badly to you, it is because of some unhappiness that they are carrying around with them, a problem that was nothing to do with you. I wish I had been more gentle with people in that situation and not reacted so angrily. Once you find out what's going on, the whole relationship can change.
- 4 My dad always used to say, "Learn what you can when you're young and at school because when you're older you either won't have enough time or won't have enough money to pay for the class." That was good advice, and I wish I'd spent more time on my piano lessons.
- 5 Finally, I wish I had always said 'yes' to challenges. I'd say to young people today, if you have the opportunity to do something you have never done before, go for it. You might feel a little nervous but say 'yes' anyway.

2 Read the article again carefully. Find words or phrases which mean:

1. _____: it makes someone remember (paragraph 1)
2. _____: very beautiful (paragraph 1)
3. _____: a missed opportunity (paragraph 1)
4. _____: a lot of (paragraph 2)
5. _____: king, soft (paragraph 3)
6. _____: things that are new or difficult, but stimulating (paragraph 5)

3 Use your own words to summarise the advice she gives in each paragraph to younger people.

Paragraph 1: Be happy with the way you look when you are young.

_____

Paragraph 2: If you become famous, enjoy it. Don't be embarrassed by it.

_____

Paragraph 3: Try to understand why someone is tearing you badly. It is probably because they are unhappy.

_____

Paragraph 4: Make the most of your time when you are young enough to learn things.

_____

Paragraph 5: If you have the chance to do something, go for it.

_____

4 Write your ideas for the following questions about Paula Wilcox with your own words.

1. What would Paula Wilcox have done if she had realised she was very attractive when she was 19?

_____

2. How would she have behaved if she hadn't been embarrassed by her fame?

_____

3. What is her regret about her father's advice?

_____

Let's Match

1 Read the explanations on the left and match them with the sentences on the right.

1 You're not here.

I wish they would leave me alone.

A

2 I want my parents to leave me free.

I wish I hadn't told you about my job.

B

3 You had some problems in the city, but you didn't leave there before.

I wish you hadn't argued with your colleagues.

C

4 I regret talking about my part-time job.

I wish you were here.

D

5 There was a small argument between you and your co-workers.

I wish you had moved to the village earlier.

E

2 Match the sentence halves to make meaningful sentences.

1 Zeynep wouldn't have missed the rehearsal

if he hadn't had an accident yesterday.

A

2 If the bank hadn't helped the company,

we couldn't have arrived before 6.00.

B

3 Mr. Wilson could have taken you to the airport

she might have been energetic.

C

4 If Sue hadn't spent all night watching TV, if she had gone to bed earlier.

D

5 Even if we had caught an earlier train,

it wouldn't have survived.

2. If only you _____ to me, we wouldn't be in this situation now.
3. I regret _____ abroad when I had the chance.
4. John wishes he _____ your advice.

2 Complete the wish sentence with the verb in parentheses.

E.g. What on earth is the answer to this problem? (know) I wish I knew the answer to this problem.

1. Unfortunately, I haven't got a calculator. (have)
I _____.
2. The trouble is, I don't really understand the problem. (understand)
I _____.
3. I think I'd prefer to be in a different class. (be)
I _____.
4. In fact, I'd rather study French instead. (study)
I _____.

Let's Write

2 Rewrite the sentences using a wish clause and 3rd type conditional.

E.g. Andy didn't study at school. That's why he didn't graduate from the university.
Andy wishes he had studied enough at school.
If Andy had studied enough, he would have graduated from the university.

1. I didn't have a passport. Therefore, I couldn't go to Italy with my friends.

_____

Let's Answer

3 Complete each sentence with two to five words, including the word in parentheses.

E.g. It's a pity I forgot about your birthday. (wish).

I wish I hadn't forgotten about your birthday.

1. Sara wants to join a gym, but she hasn't got enough time.

(wishes)

Sara _____ enough time to join a gym.

2. He didn't wear his helmet and got injured. (had)

If he _____, he wouldn't have got injured.

3. I regret telling Mary my address. (wish)

I _____ Mary my address.

4. Why don't you try to pay more attention in class? (would)

I _____ to pay more attention in class.

5. I don't think it's a good idea to take the car. (were)

If _____, I wouldn't take the car.

Let's Write

5 Write a response for each statement.

1. I didn't pay attention to what I ate as a kid.

E.g. I was very selfish when I was younger.

E.g. I wish I hadn't been so selfish. I should have been more generous when I was younger. If I had been more generous in my youth, I would have more friends now.

2. I never read very often before I went to university.

3. I didn't make a lot of friends when I was in high school.

4. I argued a lot with my parents when I was a teenager.

3 Read the situations below, and match the statements with the appropriate expressions of regrets.

1 You haven't visited your grandmother for a long time. She didn't return your calls because you forgot to celebrate her birthday last week. You took your sister to her home with a bouquet and a present. Express your regret.

2 You met your friends at an expensive restaurant to have dinner. You realised you left your wallet at home when you wanted the check. Talk to your friends and express your apology.

3 Your friends are throwing a party at the weekend, and you want to attend so badly. Thus, you lied to your parents and said that you would study for the exam with your friends at the weekend. However, your parents found out the truth, so you feel ashamed and want to apologise.

4 You told one of your friends a secret and learned that s/he shared it with your classmates. You feel edgy and want to express your regret.

5 You were ill and couldn't attend the lessons for a while. When you go to school, you learn you have a critical exam. You express your wishes.

6 You borrowed your father's watch and lost it. Your father is nervous because it was a gift from your grandparents. Apologise for your recklessness.

A I wish I had known that before. I didn't know there would be an exam today. If only I studied and passed the exam.

B I shouldn't have lied to you. If only I hadn't made that up. I'm terribly sorry; I won't go there and will never do this again.

C I wish we could spend more time with you, but we were in a rush. You are the most precious person in our lives. We are truly sorry, please forgive us. I promise we'll visit often.

D I'm truly sorry dad, if only I hadn't taken your watch. I wish I hadn't lost it.

E Excuse me for my carelessness. I wish I had checked my bag before I went out. Next time, the check will be on me.

F I shouldn't have talked about my personal life with anybody. It was my bad to trust everyone. I am almost at my wit's end trying to deal with this chaos.

Let's Speak

2 Work in pairs. Ask these questions to your partner.

- Do you remember your biggest regret? _____
- When did it happen? _____
- What happened afterward? _____
- What did you learn via this? _____

_____

Let's Listen

1 Look at the picture and describe what you see in the picture. Do you think this person needs technology in his life?

2 Listen to the podcast of a teenager who is talking about why we need technology. Complete the sentences.

1. I believe we need technology due to _____.
2. Sandra needs her hearing aid all the time as _____.
3. Stephen Hawking; for example, can give lectures to students by typing his words to a keyboard because _____.
4. She can go on her education since _____.
5. We save a lot of time when we use them, so _____.
6. In school, visual materials are very effective in learning; thus, _____.
7. Farmers also use technological devices in agriculture owing to _____.
8. There is an increase in population. As a result, _____.

Let's Answer

4 Write the steps of the digital story processing next to the sentences.

- ◆ Put it all together
- ◆ Write the script
- ◆ Gather images, audios, videos
- ◆ Come up with an idea
- ◆ Record your voice
- ◆ Share

1. Decide what to write about. _____
2. A great deal of thinking and planning take place during this stage. Think in terms of your audience. _____
3. Be careful with the pace and tone of your voice. _____
4. A careful work is needed to gather and prepare media resources. _____
5. Combine everything and build your story. _____
6. Export it for everyone to see and hear. _____

5 Read the paragraph and find out what can be the best title for it. Share your ideas.

Houses are very different today from the ones 100 years ago. Today, there are TVs, video recorders, electric cookers, and washing machines. And during the next few years, houses will change a lot more. They'll become 'smart'. A computer will control every room in the house. And this computer will understand your voice! For example, you'll ask for music, and the computer will play your favourite CDs automatically. You won't have to programme the video recorder in your living room since the computer will remember your favourite TV shows and record them automatically. To give another example, the kitchen of the future will be very different from today's kitchens. The fridge won't only keep your food cold –it'll know how much food you've got. When necessary, it'll buy more food from the Internet. The cooker will be 'intelligent' too, and it'll understand recipes and prepare your food automatically. Every meal will be perfect! In short, life will become much easier for us thanks to smart homes.

THEME-5

In my opinion, the best title for the paragraph is _____

Let's Produce

- 1 Work in pairs. You are going to prepare a digital story about technology and the youth. Talk about the process of it. # NEWSPAPER

New York, Sunday, January 1, 2022 $0.99 • Volume 2, Number 1 • SPECIAL EDITION

Archaeologists were expecting to uncover the ruins of a Roman quarry when they visited to watch the construction of a new boathouse in Kaiseraugst, Switzerland. Instead, the construction project in December 2021 found the remains of a once-powerful Roman amphitheater. They discovered fragments of gates and side entries along the Rhine's banks, complete with surviving sandstone thresholds. The archaeologists also discovered plastered inner walls. They found wooden grandstands as well — as demonstrated by the impression of a wooden pillar — where supporters may have once sat to cheer.

Paleontologists in Queensland, Australia, got more than they hoped for when they discovered a 95-million-year-old crocodile skeleton. The crocodile was not just a previously unknown species, but it also carried dinosaur remnants in its gut. "This is the first time that a crocodile has been discovered with dinosaur remains in its stomach. It's a world first", exclaimed Matt White, an associate at the Australian Age of Dinosaurs Museum who coordinated the discovery's investigation. White and a group of paleontologists and volunteers discovered the Winton Structure, a geological rock formation that has previously given dinosaur bones. They weren't expecting to find crocodile remains — they were seeking sauropod bones — but when a front loader began scraping surplus dirt from the site, they discovered the crocodile remains: Two remarkable discoveries were made by researchers as they investigated the fossil. The eight-foot crocodile, firstly, appeared to be a previously unknown species. Secondly, its stomach contained the remains of a tiny dinosaur. The dinosaur eaten by the crocodile was an ornithopod, a tiny, beaked plant-eater that lived 100 million years ago, according to him and his team.

It took two years for Russian wildlife photographer Dmitry Kokh to eventually set sail in August 2021. He travelled 1,200 miles to Wrangel Island, a UNESCO-protected sanctuary in the Russian Far East, to capture polar bears in their natural habitat. A storm drove his ship to seek shelter on the southern island of Kolyuchin, where he discovered polar bears had taken over the abandoned buildings and made them their summer home. According to news resources, the little island has been abandoned since 1992 and is famed for its polar weather station. Only decayed structures and a ghost village remain. To Kokh's surprise, it now contains almost 20 polar bears. Kokh photographed the animals with a remote-controlled drone camera with low-noise propellers. Unlike Wrangel Island, Kolyuchin Island was long presumed abandoned, but according to Kokh, life is unpredictable: "Nature often sends you something unexpected, and when we passed Kolyuchin Island on Chukotka's northern coast, we spotted movement in the windows. When we got close, we saw bears! It was the first time they were seen in those buildings, so it was unique."

A FRIEND IS MORE THAN JUST A FRIEND

In life, there are many things that are out of our control. For example, we can't choose our parents, our genetics, or control the things that happen in the world. However, there is one thing that we can choose: It is who our friends are. This decision can either make our lives much richer and more beautiful, or more stressful and disappointing. Therefore, finding a true friend is crucial in our lives especially for two reasons. First, it makes life more enjoyable. We can share every beautiful aspect of life with people who we love, which improves the quality of our lives. Second, our friends are always there to help us during difficult times. If we have friends to support us when we have to overcome a hardship, difficult situations may be more tolerable.

The fact that true friendships enrich and color our lives is known to everyone. However, most people are having difficulty in building one. There comes the question: Where and how can I find true friends? In order to start a friendship, you need to take a step and start socializing because a true friend doesn't magically appear on your doorstep. Moreover, it's easier to build a friendship if people you contact have the same interests as you, so it's advisable to join events related to your interests, such as painting, trekking, dancing, etc. In these events, you most probably find a friend with whom you can get on better than the rest of the group, and if he or she is the one, your friendship turns into a lifelong friendship.

To sum up, as we are social creatures, friendship has always been an indispensable part of our lives for thousands of years. Therefore, building a friendship is always a priority for most of us. However, it may require some effort and sacrifices to build and maintain a friendship. Also, it shouldn't be taken for granted as no one would want to lose a friend whom he or she can trust and share the life with.

1 Match the words to their definitions. Pay attention to their meanings in the passage.

- 1 disappointing
- 2 aspect
- 3 to overcome
- 4 to enrich
- 5 indispensable
- 6 to take for granted
- 7 priority

- A. a part of something
- B. to fail to appreciate the value, merit, etc. of (a person)
- C. to improve the quality of something, usually by adding something to it
- D. something that you think is more important than other things and should be dealt with first
- E. someone or something so important or useful that it is impossible to manage without them
- F. to successfully deal with a problem or feeling
- G. not as good, successful etc. as you hoped

Let's Read

The civil rights movement, which took place mostly during the 1950s and 1960s, aimed to bring equal rights to Black Americans in the United States. After the Civil War, slavery was officially abolished, yet discrimination against Black people didn't come to an end. Especially in the south of the country, Black people had to endure the devastating effects of this discrimination. Therefore, they, together with many White Americans, took action and started an unprecedented fight for equality.

3 Read the paragraph above and circle the statement that cannot be inferred from the passage.

- A) The civil rights movement started in the second half of the 20th century.
- B) Black people were suffering from discrimination in the country in the 1950s.
- C) All White people in the North of the country respected Black people and their rights.
- D) Black people had to fight for their rights, and many White people supported them.
- E) Some steps had been taken to eliminate the inequality between Black and White people before the civil rights movement.

4 Read the poem, find and write its theme.

I, Too

I, too, sing America.

I am the darker brother.
They send me to eat in the kitchen
When company comes,
But I laugh,
And eat well,
And grow strong.

Tomorrow,
I'll be at the table
When company comes.
Nobody'll dare
Say to me,
"Eat in the kitchen,"
Then.
Besides,
They'll see how beautiful I am
And be ashamed—
I, too, am America.

By Langston Hughes

LISTENING TAPESCRIPTS

THEME 1 GETTING TO KNOW EACH OTHER

Jim: I am planning to buy a new tablet so that I can save my documents easily.

Katie: I don't prefer using a tablet for my documents. I'd rather use a PC than a tablet. I believe this is more practical.

Jim: Oh, this is not my cup of tea. I'd rather use a tablet for sure because I just want to carry my documents everywhere I go easily. You know I stay in dormitory and I have to carry my stuff at the weekends. Also, in my room there is no table. According to me, using a PC is not very comfortable on a bed.

Katie: Oh, I see. So, you can buy a smart phone instead. It will be very handy then.

Jim: I have a smart phone, but for me it is not very useful for documents. I generally do not prefer mobiles for reading documents as the screen is too small to view them.

Katie: Yes, I think buying a tablet is the best option then.

Jim: Yes, it is. So, I am planning to go shopping tomorrow. Do you prefer coming with me or staying at home?

Katie: I'd rather stay at home. I have a lot of homework. I believe it would be better for me.

Jim: OK, then. See you later!

THEME 2 WORDS TELL SOMETHING

Edward: Hey sis. What are you doing? Are you reading a diet book again?

Lisa: Ha-ha, very funny. I am reading a book about food and drink culture, customs and etiquette around the world. If you yourself read some things in your entire life, you will learn not to eat all those junk food.

Edward: Thanks for reminding! You know what? You drew my attention. What rules of etiquette are there in other countries?

Lisa: There are lots of examples. Let me read a few interesting ones. Here it says "It is good to burp at the dinner table in China." If you don't burp, the host will think that you didn't like the food.

Edward: Burping? That's interesting.

Lisa: Here is another one from China again. "Flipping the fish while cooking is really bad luck. If you flip, the fishermen's boat will capsize," they say. Look! This one is good for you bro. "In some parts of Asia, slurping while eating noodle is considered polite. "

Edward: Don't mess with me Lis!

Lisa: OK. OK. "If you don't shake the cup of the coffee when you finished, they will keep on pouring you more."

Edward: Where on earth does it happen?

Lisa: Bedouins in Middle East. Last piece is from Portugal. "If you ask for salt and pepper on the table, it is considered offensive because it means you are questioning the cook's ability."

Edward: And in our country "Bananas should be eaten with a fork and knife". Let me go and get one, and eat it traditionally!

THEME 3 PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Rey's Characteristics This is a photo of Daisy Ridley. She's a British actress. She is the main character of Star Wars - The Force Awakens. Star Wars - The Force Awakens is a 2015 American space film.

Her costume is beige pants and a sleeveless, collarless, beige shirt and a belt with pouch. There are beige boots on her feet, too. In the movie, Daisy Ridley plays Rey Skywalker. She's a headstrong, friendly, and good character. She's also a brave, and gorgeous survivor. She is able to keep her humanity although she is in difficult and dangerous situations. Rey has always stayed loyal to her old friends. The message of the film is 'The greatest reward of life is friendship' and 'power of friendship'.

THEME 4 JOIN US

(At home)

Mr. Mill: We haven't talked about our holiday this year yet.

Mrs. Mill: Yes. We should start planning. What type? Where?

Mr. Mill: Well, I haven't thought about it. Have you?

Mrs. Mill: Neither have I. How about going to a travel agency and seeing what they offer.

Mr. Mill: It sounds good.

( At the travel agent's)

Mr. and Mrs. Mill: Hi! We are Mr. and Mrs. Mill and we want to plan a ten-day holiday.

Travel agent: Hi, Mr. and Mrs. Mill. What type of holiday are you planning?

Mrs. Mill: We both like sun, sea, and swimming. We want a beach holiday. And some sightseeing as well.

Travel agent: I suggest that you go to Turkey if you haven't been there. It is a perfect place for you.

Mr. Mill: No, we haven't. How long does the flight take from here to Turkey?

Travel agent: A bit long, about 13 hours - direct flight- but it is worth it.

Mr. Mill: Sure. I have heard of it before. And the accommodation?

Travel agent: There are hotels, holiday resorts, and all the other ways of accommodation. Here are some brochures about Turkey.

Mr. Mill: OK. We will have a look and then get in touch with you again.

THEME 5 SHARING IDEAS

In today's podcast, we will discuss why we need technology. Technology has been a debated topic for long. Few people think that technology is more harmful than its being useful. I believe we need technology due to many things. Today I am going to introduce you some people in my life so that you will understand how they use technology and why they need them. I have a friend whose name is Sandra. Sandra needs her hearing aid all the time as she has hearing impairment. She can go on her education and life with the help of her hearing aid. There are a lot of devices invented for people with disabilities. This technology is called "assistive technology". These items increase the functional capacities of these people. Stephen Hawking, for example, can give lectures to students by typing his words to a keyboard because he cannot move or speak. I have a classmate called Laura. Since she is physically disabled, she can go on her education with the help of her wheel chair. Technology is not just necessary for people who have disabilities. We all need technology. Let's look at the life of my family as an example.

We need our home appliances such as washing machine, vacuum cleaner, dish washer, etc. We save a lot of time when we use them, so we need them all the time. At school, visual materials are very effective in learning; thus, all my teachers use smart boards in our lessons. Farmers also need to use technological devices in agriculture owing to the huge demand for food. There is an increase in population. As a result, food demand is increasing day by day. These are just a few benefits of technology. To sum up, although it has some harmful sides, this is just a drop in the bucket.

THEME 6 LET'S PLAY WITH LANGUAGE

LET'S LISTEN 1

Yesterday I was at the port. I was shipping sheep on the ship. The slim sheep had been slimmed badly. It grimed the ship, so I need a kit to clean. I got on the ship and took a kit. Suddenly I saw a kite passed by me and I got scared. The kit fell into the sea. I jumped into the sea to take the kit. Just then, a huge fish came near to me. It tried to bite me a bit. I got on the ship quickly and went on shipping sheep on the ship.

LET'S LISTEN 2

Elsie: Welcome to Elsie and James' radio program. What is the question today, James?

James: Today the questions will be about how to be polite. Hey, teenagers we are waiting for your questions. You know we find a way!

Elsie: Oh! Someone is calling. Welcome on board, J your captain is speaking. Hehe! Can you introduce yourself?

Max: I'm Max from Exeter. I'm a high-school student.

James: How can I help you?

Max: Actually, I get on well with my friends. But, sometimes they complain about my making humour. I'm at peace with myself. I poke fun at myself. I like making fun of my friends too. I don't want to be at odds with my friends.

Elsie: It is good to be at peace with yourself. But, never forget, everybody can't be at peace with themselves. You should use humours carefully.

James: Additionally, you had better know the boundaries. You ought not to aim to cause offence and use suitable language for different situations.

Max: Yes, you're right. I will be careful about what you said. Thank you. So glad we have you!

Ellie: Thank you Max.

James: It is really hard to be a humorous teenager.

Ellie: Oh! Another call! Hello! Can you introduce yourself?

Millie: Hello! I'm Millie from Westminster. I'm fifteen.

James: Do you have trouble in being new at school as you are a ninth-grade student.

Millie: Actually, no. I'm frequently late for my appointments. OK, this is my bad, but when I get there I apologise for being late. But I don't understand why they get angry with me after I apologise.

Ellie: If you arrange to meet somebody at a certain time, be sure you are on time or even a few minutes early. People consider you as disrespectful if you aren't punctual. If you are going to be late for some reason, you should let people know. Apologise for being late but you shouldn't over do your apologies.

Millie: You're right. It has never occurred to me that they would think I'm disrespectful. I will let people know that I will be late hereafter. The most important, I will try not to be late.

James: You are awesome!

Millie: Thanks for your advice. Bye!
